About EuroBrussels.com

EuroBrussels collects and displays most European Affairs jobs, which would otherwise be scattered on multiple websites that are normally hard to find. EuroBrussels provides this service for well-educated European professionals who want to work in law, politics, economics and communications in Brussels, and other cities with European Affairs and International Relations jobs across Europe.

Through professional experience, we are familiar with the European Affairs community, its institutions, organisations, websites and working procedures – which is why we have been able to create a pioneer service for a large international and professional audience.

Hosted on EuroBrussels – what does that mean?

Not all recruiters want (or are able) to post the job description on their own website – this means that we cannot link to it. Therefore, we offer custom web pages specifically for your job vacancy, with your organisation's logo prominently displayed.

Here's an example of how your job description will appear:

The screenshot shows a job listing on EuroBrussels.com. The main content area displays the GAIN logo and the job title 'Senior Associate, Press and Media Relations'. Below the title, it specifies 'GAIN - Global Alliance for Improved Nutrition' and 'Geneva, Switzerland'. The 'Overview' section describes GAIN's mission to combat malnutrition. The 'Job Description' section details the role's responsibilities, including reporting to the Manager, developing a media strategy, and building media contacts. The 'Duties' section lists specific tasks like driving media engagement and building relationships with influencers. The 'Qualifications' section is partially visible. The right sidebar contains several widgets: 'Top Jobs' with a 'Political Expert, Office of the EU Spec...' listing, a 'Click Here to Post a Job' button, a 'Free Newsletter' sign-up form, 'Education & Courses' featuring Vesalius College Brussels and MALED, and 'Partners' listing Latham & Watkins and Hill+Knowlton.
